SPANIT card kit

This innovative card kit, designed in both Italian and Spanish, offers a dynamic and engaging approach to language learning by recreating the familiar environments of shops, services, and products found in the popular tourist destinations of Capri and Palma de Mallorca, in Italy and Spain. This resource is particularly valuable for adult migrant students seeking to acquire not only general Italian and Spanish language skills but also the specific vocabulary and expressions needed for success in the tourism sector. By immersing learners in realistic scenarios and practical language use, the kit facilitates long-term inclusion and integration, empowering them to confidently navigate daily life and pursue employment opportunities in these vibrant cultural contexts.

Experimented Exercises

1. The Local Market

Objective: To learn the names of food products, numbers, prices and useful expressions for shopping.

Materials : Food store cards (fruit, vegetables, cheese, bread, etc.), cards with pictures of generic and local products.

Procedure: Divide the students into groups and assign each group a "stall" in the market/neighborhood.

Each student draws some "customer" cards that act as a shopping list.

Students take turns "going to the market" and "buying" the products indicated on the cards, observing them, noting the image and spelling, and interacting with the "sellers" (the other students).

2. Getting your bearings in the neighborhood...

Objective : To learn how to ask for and give directions, how to use public transport and how to find your way around the city to go to a shop or buy products.

Procedure: Services cards, cards with pictures of means of transport or a travel agency or a tour service.

Development: A student plays the role of a tourist who needs to reach a certain shop or location.

The other students take turns giving directions, using the big store cards or the small services cards.

You can also simulate buying a bus, train or boat ticket.

3. The Jobs Quiz

Objective: Learn the names of jobs and professions, and the actions that take place in each shop/service store.

Material: shop cards, cards with product images.

Procedure: The teacher shows a big shop card and the students have to guess what professions are carried out in that shop, what actions are done in that shop on a daily basis, stimulating the use of verbs and the enrichment of vocabulary.

You can make a quiz in teams with questions about the products/services sold in each store and the actions performed in the specific store.

4. Tell your story

Objective : To encourage students to talk about their experiences and to use Italian and Spanish creatively starting from the images on the cards.

Material : shop cards, product and service cards.

Procedure: The teacher gives the student 5 cards matching services or products and asks him/her to tell a story using those terms.

Using the cards as a starting point, students invent a short story or tale set in the shop, or an experience from their life or their country, or talk about typical products from their country to their classmates.

5. Guess the shop

Objective : Review store and product vocabulary.

Material : shop cards and product cards.

Procedure: A student describes a shop without naming it, mentioning the products it sells, and the other students have to guess which shop it is.

Additional tips

Use the cards creatively and flexibly, adapting the exercises to the students' level of Italian and their interests.

Encourage active participation from all students by creating a fun and inclusive learning environment.

Use the cards to introduce topics of culture and society, such as Neapolitan traditions, typical products and local crafts.

Engage students in creating new activities with the cards, stimulating their creativity and interest.

Specific exercises to improve spelling, pronunciation and writing with the card kit

1. Dictation of words and sentences

Objective : Improve spelling and active listening.

Materials : Shop cards, sheets of paper and pens.

Procedure: The teacher chooses some shop cards and says aloud the names of the shops or products they contain. Students listen carefully and write down the words or sentences dictated.

After dictation, the answers are compared and any errors are corrected.

2. Sound-grapheme matching

Objective: To associate sounds with letters and improve pronunciation.

Materials: Shop cards, product cards and alphabet letters.

Procedure: The teacher shows a shop or product card and says the name of the shop or a product out loud.

Students identify the letters that make up the word, explain the meaning of the word and match the word to the correct shop/service store. You can also ask students to pronounce the word out loud or phrase it or spell it.

3. Crosswords and word puzzles

Objective: To reinforce spelling in a fun way.

Materials: crossword or puzzle with words related to shops and products, shop or product cards.

Procedure: Students complete the crossword or puzzle, using the shop or product cards to find the correct words.

4. Guided Composition

Objective : To develop creative writing and improve grammar.

Material: Store, product or service cards as a guideline composition .

Procedure: The teacher asks the students to do a "guided written composition" providing them with some cards. Students choose some shop/service store/product cards that inspire them and use the prompts to write a short text (a story, a description, a dialogue) set in shops/service stores, according to the language level.

5. Role-playing games

Objective : To practice pronunciation and spelling in a real context.

Material : Store cards and products.

Procedure: Students role-play customers and salespeople in stores, using cards to simulate different shopping or interaction situations. During role-playing games, students can write short messages or shopping lists, practicing spelling.

Additional tips

Use the cards in practical and creative ways, proposing activities that stimulate the students' interest.

Correct spelling and pronunciation errors constructively, providing clear and simple explanations.

Encourage students to use Spanish and Italian spontaneously and in a fun way, without fear of making mistakes.

Use the "guided composition" to introduce grammar and vocabulary topics, helping students to gradually improve their linguistic competence and to also encourage them to talk about their own culture.
